

Oral Presenters:

This document contains important information regarding the participation of oral presenters in the EI Dia event on March 28, 2023, so please read it carefully.

Abstracts are available online for oral presentations.

Modality:

- This session has a hybrid modality in auditorium S107 of the ENR2 building on the south campus and via zoom available on the agenda. The zoom link will be the same for the duration of the conference. The modality and order of student presenters for this session are available via the agenda.

Awards:

- This a reminder that all UA and UA-affiliated presenters can win awards Last year there are over $10,000 in awards thanks to generous sponsors. To maintain eligibility for awards, presenters must abide by the following guidance:

Timeline Guidance:

- Before Conference:
 - By March 22 at 11:59p - Required - Register \(it's free!\)
 - By March 22 at 11:59p - Optional - 10-15 minute recorded presentation uploaded to the EI Dia 2023 D2L (This year's page coming soon).
 - Mar 23-Mar 27 - Recommended - Watch recorded oral presentations, which will be available for viewing for judges and the general public on the EI Dia website.
 - Presenters who do not upload their slides before midnight will not be permitted to use visual aids during their oral presentations.
 - Why? In-person oral presenters will not be able to connect their own devices to the present.
 - Online oral presenters will be permitted to screen-share their presentations.
- Day of Conference (March 28):
 - 8:00 to 8:30 - Required - Check-in; ensure your 5-minute PowerPoint presentation has already been submitted directly to this form.
 - __:__ to __:__ - Required - Your Oral Session
 - Arrive at the session 5-10 minutes early and make contact with the session moderator.
 - Presenters need to be present for the entire session.

- Each presenter will have 10 total minutes, including no more than 5 minutes to present, followed by time for Q&A.
- The presentations for this session will take place in the order available on the agenda. Start times for individual presentations are approximate.
- 5:45 to 6:15 - Recommended - Award Presentation
 - Be present in order to find out if you won an award! Full list of awards here.
- 7:00 to midnight? - Open to all - Post-Conference Celebration at No Anchovies
- Miscellaneous Information:
 - The venue will provide a lectern, microphone, and clicker for presenters.
 - Oral presentations will be streamed via zoom.

Volunteer

- This year's El Dia is free and open to the people. As an oral presenter, you are expected to volunteer with the breakdown of the event. Please join the El Dia planning committee in the courtyard of ENR2 from 6:15 pm to 7:00 pm to help us with tasks such as tearing down tables, poster tripods, refreshments, and more. El Dia is made possible in part by the volunteer time and effort of students like you.

Virtual Uploads

- The dedicated El Dia 2023 D2L website should be accessible for anyone with a University of Arizona email address either by link (<https://d2l.arizona.edu/d2l/home/1147516>) or on the D2L homepage under 'all'. Detailed directions regarding presentation uploading procedures are described. [Uploads of virtual materials are required for oral presenters.]

Safety + COVID:

- The conference will follow COVID protocols established by the University of Arizona
- Planners and Department of Hydrology & Atmospheric Sciences leadership are working to ensure the safety of the event. Contact us with any questions/concerns: clcastro@arizona.edu, ermasan@arizona.edu, and/or has.student.symposium@gmail.com
- Much of the programming will be available for viewing via zoom, as per the agenda.